Legal structure	Summary: most typical features	Ownership, governance and constitution	Is it a legal person distinct from those who own and/or run it?	Can its activities benefit those who own and/or run it?	Assets "locked in" for community benefit?	Can it be a charity and get charitable status tax benefits?	Governing body?
Unincorporated association https://www.gov.uk/unincorporated-associations	Informal; no general regulation of this structure; need to make own rules.	Nobody owns: governed according to own rules.	No: can create problems for contracts, holding property and liability of members.	Depends on own rules.	Would need bespoke drafting to achieve this.	Yes, if it meets the criteria for being a charity.	N/A
Trust	A way of holding assets so as to separate legal ownership from economic interest.	Assets owned by trustees and managed in interests of beneficiaries on the terms of the trust.	No: trustees personally liable.	Trustees/ directors no, unless trust, court or Charity Commission permit.	Yes (if trust established for community benefit).	Yes, if it meets the criteria for being a charity.	Subject to English trust law.
Limited company (other than Community Interest Company) www.companieshouse.gov.uk	Most frequently adopted corporate legal structure; can be adapted to suit most purposes.	Directors manage business on behalf of members. Considerable flexibility over internal rules.	Yes; members' liability limited to amount unpaid on shares or by guarantee.	Yes (but no dividends etc. to members if it is a company limited by guarantee).	Would need bespoke drafting in articles (which could be amended by members).	Yes, if it meets the criteria for being a charity.	Company Law and Charity Commission if CLG with public benefit and charitable objects
Community Interest Company (CIC) www.cicregulator.gov.uk Introduced in UK in 2005	"off-the-peg" limited company structure for social enterprise with secure "asset lock" and focus on community benefit.	As for other limited companies, but subject to additional regulation to ensure community benefits.	Yes; members' liability limited to amount unpaid on shares or by guarantee.	Yes, but must benefit wider community as well. Can pay limited dividends to private investors.	Yes, through standard provisions which all CICs must include in their constitutions.	No, but can become a charity if it ceases to be a CIC.	CIC regulator and Company Law
Co-operative Society *A form of 'registered society' introduced in 2014 – replacing Industrial & Provident Society (IPS) https://www.fca.org.uk/firms/registered-societies-introduction NB: IPS still exist in Northern Ireland	For bona fide co-operatives that serve members' interests by trading with them or otherwise supplying them with goods or services.	Committee / officers manage on behalf of members. One member, one vote (regardless of e.g. sizes of respective shareholdings).	Yes; members liability limited to amount unpaid on shares.	Yes, but should do so mostly by members trading with society, using its facilities etc, not as a result of e.g. shareholdings	Would need bespoke drafting in articles (which could be amended by members).	No – would have to be constituted as community benefit type of IPS.	Financial Conduct Authority
Community Benefit Society *A form of 'registered society' introduced in 2014 – replacing Industrial & Provident Society (IPS) https://www.fca.org.uk/firms/registered-societies-introduction NB: IPS still exist in Northern Ireland	Benefit community other than just own members and have special reason not to be companies.	Like Co-op type, but new legislation provides option of more secure form of asset lock.	Yes; members liability limited to amount unpaid on shares.	Must primarily benefit non-members; asset lock applies.	Yes (asset lock only survives dissolution if new statutory form of asset lock adopted).	Yes, if it meets the criteria for being a charity.	Financial Conduct Authority and Charity Commission if exempt
Charitable Incorporated Organisation (CIO) https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/charitable-incorporated-organisations/practice-guide-14a-charitable-incorporated-organisations Introduced in UK in 2013	First ready-made corporate structure specifically designed for charities.	Similar to company but with different terminology (e.g. for "directors" read "charity trustees").	Yes; members either have no liability or limited liability.	Members: no. Charity trustees: only if constitution, court or Charity Commission permits.	Yes.	Cannot be anything but a charity and must meet the criteria for being a charity.	Charity Commission
